The range of lubricants available for today's motorcyclists is extensive and can be difficult to understand. That's why we have made sure that our re-designed SILKOLENE packs mean choosing the right product from the UK's favourite motorcycle lubricant brand has never been easier. Our clear & defined colour label system directs you quickly to the right product. From scooter rider to classic enthusiast or commuter to all-out racer, you can easily find the very best SILKOLENE product to meet your exact needs.

Based on extensive consumer feedback, our new bottles feature an enhanced ergonomic design to offer improved weight distribution, making them easier to use. The new optimised bottle has a larger & extended neck to ensure a smoother pour, and with a tamper-resistant screw cap, you can always be assured it is your favourite SILKOLENE product inside.

Our industry-leading Lube Cube has also been updated with our new labels and colourways, and now features new 'how to use' guidelines with clear 'push through' markings on the top. The SILKOLENE Lube Cubes are vacuum-sealed allowing for a smooth pour without any glug, making them easier to use than ever before.

Using your favourite lubricant now also means you can make a positive impact on your environment. The new SILKOLENE bottles are made with 30% recycled plastic (PCR) and our ground-breaking 4L Lube Cubes continue to lead the race in sustainability by being 100% recyclable. All our new small-packs help reduce our/your carbon footprint whilst maximising the performance that you expect when using SILKOLENE products.

Proudly made in the UK, SILKOLENE products are 100% dedicated for use in powered two-wheel applications. With our race-led R&D and continuous product development you can be assured that when choosing SILKOLENE, you are using the best products for your pride and joy.
